The Foundation for International Development Assistance, along with its working arm in Haiti, productive cooperatives Haiti (pCH) provides resources to communities who are motivated to advance themselves economically by forming an agricultural cooperative. As thousands of Haitians flee to the countryside in search of safety and food, the stress on current agricultural production is great. The immediate revitalizing and intensifying of food production is critical in order to mitigate the food shortage and the increasing prices of agricultural products. With planting season fast approaching, the country will be at risk for conflict and famine if seeds, agricultural tools and credit for the present planters are not available. FIDA/pCH, with its established history and experience in agricultural production has the technical expertise to provide training and support to the growing number of planters. We need your help. We cannot do it alone. All proceeds from this event will be invested in agricultural production in Haiti.

We look forward to seeing you on the greens for your best golfing investment of the season! REGISTER NOW!
